SUPPLEMENTAL TREATMENT INFORMATION:

- If you would like to look for Brain Health Coaches in your area, you can go to www.amenclinics.com, go to the 'About' tab, and 'Find a Referral' from the drop-down menu.
- If you would prefer online therapy because of geographic or temporal limitations, consider websites such as https://www.betterhelp.com/ or https://www.talkspace.com/

- We discussed supplements that can help your brain: A good resource to read about dietary supplements is the NIH office of dietary supplements: https://ods.od.nih.gov/factsheets/list-all/
  BrainMD website: https://www.brainmdhealth.com/
  Swanson Vitamins website: https://www.swansonvitamins.com/

- For any medication I have prescribed, recommended or mentioned for future consideration, I strongly encourage you to read about these medications in detail, including benefits, warnings and possible side effects. A good website to get this information from, is the website of the US National library of medicine, National Institutes of Health. https://druginfo.nlm.nih.gov/drugportal/
  The onus is on you, to remember what I tell you, and read about risks, benefits, alternatives and possible side effects of any medications or supplements I prescribe or recommend. Your consent is implicit.
  PLEASE NOTE: Since illicit substances can impact your brain functioning, affect mental and general medical conditions, and your response to prescribed medications, it is my prerogative to withhold medications, as well as request urine drug screens to monitor compliance with the plan, in order to prescribe or refill medications I have recommended.
  PLEASE NOTE: For any medications I am prescribing, I need to be informed AT LEAST 10 working days BEFORE you run out of refills, so it gives me enough time to refill your medication on time.

- If you gave us permission to obtain collateral information and talk about your treatment here, they are people who you approved on the consent forms, in writing.
- Your medical records including recent (in the last year) lab work, ECHO, sleep study, EKG, brain scans, EEG, etc. are crucial in helping us understanding co-morbid/ contributing factors to your current complaints, and we need those in order to give you appropriate recommendations. There will be an additional fee for the time taken by me, to peruse your medical records, if they are more than 15 pages.

- Regarding supplements: When possible, I recommend BrainMD (BMD) products given their high quality. For BrainMD products (BMD) look on line for information and a video at www.brainmd.com. If you use other brands, use that manufacturer's recommended dose unless directed otherwise.
- * I cannot vouch for the quality of supplements from other vendors. However, the following are SOME of the vendors thought to generally have good quality products: Swanson, Biopure, Life Extension, Nordic Naturals, Carlson's, Source Natural, Thorne Research, Ortho Molecular, Pure Encapsulations, Jarrow, Essentia, DaVinci Labs, Designs for Health, Metagenics, Vital Nutrients, and Douglas Labs.
- Please note, I do not get kickbacks/ compensation from any companies whose products I recommend, unless I have explicitly stated otherwise.

- For quick questions, concerns, sending us recent test results/ medical records or medication side effects (that would take less than 5 minutes), you will not be charged a fee, and can contact my assistants, by either call the clinic number or faxing the paperwork to the fax number on the business card, or emailing one of my assistants. PLEASE NOTE: I will accept this information through my assistants and not through my direct email or phone.
- Please note, for test results that you receive, please fax them or email them to my assistant. For test results that I receive, if something warrants immediate intervention, I will have my assistant contact you with further instructions. If something does not warrant further intervention, I will discuss the test results at your follow-up appointment.
- Also, any suggestions I have regarding doctors, services, tests, products, supplements, are made in good faith, and we are not responsible for any decisions you make regarding these, or any outcomes from those services.

- Please consider following Dr Amen's podcast, The Brain Warriors Way, http://brainwarriorswaypodcast.com, where he has the latest information on brain health, and interviews with world renowned experts.

- For insurance reimbursement, we can provide you a superbill that you can submit to insurance and see if they can reimburse you for some of the services we provided, but we do not work with insurance.
- We do not work with Medicare (Amen doctors have opted out of Medicare), so if you have Medicare, please DO NOT submit claims for reimbursement to Medicare.
